

Project Name: Constants of Criminal Law and
Normative Identity of Romanian society (1939-1969-2009)

Financing Contract no. 33 / 29.04.2013

SUMMARY SCIENTIFIC PROGRESS REPORT
PREPARED FOR THE EXECUTION OF THE PROJECT IN 2015

The research was conducted through a combination of individual and collective efforts of the team. Monthly team meetings were organized to assess progress in research of each team member and any difficulties encountered.

By analysing the functional approach, realized in 2014, the research conducted in the project opened up the prospect of a prerequisites for overcoming differences in perspective by showing the synthesis of formalistic approach of Dongoroz and Welzel's finalism in Contemporary German functionalist theory. The results of this analysis carried out in 2015 was able to put the research conducted in the previous years in a comparative perspective, in order to create a system of general theory of crime on the coordinates of Romanian criminal law in force.

In identifying, treating and working hypotheses in goals and travel contributed researchers:

DOCUMENTATION

I.1. Dr. Tudor Avriganu: documentation stage at the Max Planck Institute for foreign and international criminal law (Freiburg im Breisgau, Germany, June 25 - July 4 2015)

- Updating documentation and confirmation of working hypotheses regarding the comparative perspective by showing the synthesis of formalistic approach of Dongoroz and Welzel's finalism in Contemporary German functionalist theory;
- Confirmation of working hypotheses regarding the creation a system of general theory of crime on the coordinates of Romanian criminal law in force.

PARTICIPATION AT CONFERENCES

I.2. ISI International Conference New Criminal Legislation - important phase in the development of Romanian Law, March 21, 2014.

Tudor Avriganu: Constants of Criminal Law?

Article published in the volume "New Criminal Legislation - important phase in the development of Romanian Law", Monduzzi Editore International Proceedings Division, 2014, ISBN 978-88-7587-709-5, p.31-34 (ISI Proceedings).

I.2. The International Conference: 160 de ani de invatamant juridic iesean, Universitatea Alexandru Ioan Cuza, Iasi, 23 to 25 October 2015

Tudor Avriganu: Carl Schmitt si Mircea Djuvara: un dialog despre spatiu si idee politica in dreptul international Article published in the volume "160 de ani de invatamant juridic iesean", Hamangiu Publishing House, 2015, ISBN 978-606-27-0435-3, p. 293-303.

INTERNATIONAL CONFERENCE ORGANIZED WITHIN THE FRAMEWORK OF THE RESEARCH PROJECT

International Conference GERMAN INFLUENCES UPON THE ROMANIAN LAW - A COMPARATIVE APPROACH, Bucharest, 30th-31st October 2015

Tudor Avrigeanu: Political Science, Apolitical Technique and Postpolitical Reception:
Romanian Criminal Law Doctrine Before and After 1989

Norel Neagu: European (Criminal) Law v. National (Criminal) Law – a Two Way Street

The conference benefited from the participation of 5 foreign researchers from prestigious universities or research institutes (Germany, Spain, Italy, Argentina and Bulgaria) and 9 romanian researches from prestigious national universities and research institutes (Bucharest, Timisoara, Iasi, Sibiu). The proceedings of the conference will appear under the coordination of the director of the research project, into a collective volume at the Universul Juridic Publishing House in 2016.

III. Dissemination of research results; completion of the performance criteria set for 2015

III.1. Articles published

III.1.1. N. Neagu

"European (Criminal) Law v. National (Criminal) Law – a Two Way Street", Published in Law Review, no. 2/2015, p. 46-66

BDI Publication: <http://www.internationallawreview.eu/>

III.2. Books published

III.2.1. Tudor Avrigeanu “Știința dreptului ca știință politică”, ISBN 978-606-673-757-9, Universul Juridic Publishing House, Bucharest, 2015 (with comprehensive abstracts in German and English)

III.2.2. Tudor Avrigeanu (Editor) “German influences upon the romanian law a comparative approach / Influențe germane asupra dreptului românesc: o perspectivă comparativă”, ISBN 978-606-673-756-2, Universul Juridic Publishing House, Bucharest, 2016

The performance criteria set for 2015 were fully implemented, with 1 article in mainstream journals (BDI) - point III.1., 2 articles published in proceedings of international conferences (one ISI Proceedings and one BDI Publishing House) and two published books (one forthcoming 2016).

IV. Prospects for research in 2016

The research in 2016 will focus on the perusing of the whole research activity, which will be summarized in the drafting of the volume to be published in a foreign language (German).